Emma Kennedy emmak@thegmcgroup.com

With the excitement of Christmas and all it entails packed away for another year, all that's left is to do is sit back with the last of the prosecco (you know it won't keep) and choose the first of your New Year projects. This month we have a collection of beautiful knits in yarns to indulge and designs to inspire you. The design brief was to create knits full of texture and interest and each of our designers have put their own unique stamp on this, resulting in a collection of cool, calm winter knits. Sian Brown's Cable jumper dress and scarf (page 21) ticks both the classic style and the current matching-layering boxes alike. Fabulously on-trend, and reassuringly economical in Rico yarn, is Maisie Smith's Chunky coat (cover) and for pure luxury and inimitable style, Judy Furlong has created the Chestnut rib coat in the aptly named Scrumptious Chunky from Fyberspates (page 24). Turn to page 48 for Jeanette Sloan's technique on 'Grafting the rib edge' for this pattern.

However, if time is still in short supply, and a quick knit is called for, our Accessories gallery has a mouthwatering mix of designs including Caroline Birkett's Nordic pompom mitts (page 31) and Sarah Hazell's Fairisle shawlette (page 30), perfect for practising colourwork techniques without the worry of shaping!

Practising colourwork is one thing, but creating your own colour combinations is another. Artist Felicity Ford has her own unique way of looking at how colour works, quite literally drawing inspiration from everything around her. But, where most of us seek visual inspiration, Felicity takes it to a whole new level, incorporating field recordings and even interviews in her extraordinary pool of resources. Read Shannon Denny's interview with Felicity (page 44) and discover the inspiration behind her latest project: Knitsonik.

So now I wish you all a happy New Year and don't forget to let us know what you would like from your Knitting in 2015.

FROM CRAFT TO COUTURE

This year sees the fifth international In the Loop conference held at the University of Glasgow 26 – 28 August, in association with the Knitting Reference Library, the University of Southamton, the Glasgow University School of Humanities and the RSE 'Knitting in the Round' project. Celebrating Scotland's rich knitting history and Glasgow's fashion association, with the theme 'from Craft to Couture', the organisers are inviting proposals for papers relating to themes that may offer contemporary or historical perspectives on knitting or address knitted textiles in all its forms from the home or high street, craft or couture. They are welcoming proposals from designers, technicians, artists, makers, academics, those working at home, in the industry or in libraries and museums, covering subjects such as copyright and reinvention, creativity, design and inspiration, luxury and everyday, fashion – catwalk and couture and heritage and tradition. If you think you have something to offer send your 200 word proposal to Roslyn Chapman to glasgowuniknitting@gmail.com but hurry, proposals must be in by 15 January 2015! For more information visit www.southampton.ac.uk/intheloop.

GIVE A MUG A HUG

The Allegra Foundation raises money to provide safe water for people in coffee-growing countries and this year they have teamed up with UK charity, WaterAid, for Project Waterfall – building sustainable water systems in remote parts of Tanzania. Their major fundraising campaign is UK Coffee Week, which this year will be held 4 – 10 May. With 90% of the world's coffee produced in developing countries this is a chance for those in the industry and ordinary coffee-lovers to give back and support those communities. How can you help? For this year's Coffee Week they want to provide supporting coffee shops with cosy knitted mug hugs to give to their customers for a donation to Project Waterfall. So if you fancy whipping up a mug hug or two you can find free patterns at www.ukhandknitting.com/ knitting_for_charity.php and you can send your finished sleeves to: Allegra Foundation, Walkden House, 10 Melton Street, London, NW1 2EB by 31 March 2015. To find out more visit www.allegrafoundation.com or www.ukcoffeeweek.com.

This month:
Andie Luijk of Renaissance Dyeing, based in France
T: 00334 6831 5323 (France)
W: www.renaissancedyeing.com

Since I was little I have been passionate about plants, colour and wool; at Renaissance Dyeing I combine all three. Coming from a background in organic farming, I am dedicated to putting as few chemicals into the world and onto your hands and bodies as possible. I only use the mildest of mineral mordants and combine this with traditionally proven light-fast plants to create a palette both pleasing to you and to nature.

The wools are carefully selected according to the same principles. The Poll Dorset wool is from a relatively local organic flock here in France, the Blue-faced Leicester is as British as it is soft and the Merino lace weight, although it comes from Argentina, is mulesing free and is the softest Merino ever. I couldn't resist it. All these wools are combed before spinning, which gives you a strong, soft yarn that will wear well. I suppose you could say in all ways Renaissance Dyeing wool is reassuringly slow. Slow wool with long-term gratification.

I use plant dye material, not extracts. It is the way I have chosen to work. Each plant contains many secondary colours as well as the one for which it is famous. For instance, the red dyes are dormant in the yellow-producing weld plant that can be awakened by temperature changes in the dye bath. Exciting! Dye material in the plants will vary in quality and quantity, depending on such things as locality and weather. Each year's plants bring a different challenge from nature, with which I am thrilled to work. And YES dye lots do differ! Each is unique.

Recognising this artisan impulse in others, I tend to work with designers in an organic way, offering a good return by sharing a fair price with each kit of theirs that is sold. As I write, I am working with Kate Wallace from New Zealand on a series of hats she has designed. The vintage feel of Kate's designs reflect the care people used to take with their garments, which is largely missing in today's homogenized, mass produced clothing market. Which is, I suppose, one of the reasons we all knit.

Offers & giveaways

WTF Knits by Gabrielle Grillo and Lucy Sweet, published by Bantam Press, £7.99.

WIN!

5 X WTF KNITS

We have five copies of WTF Knits to give away.
As we all know, the world of knitting is weird and wonderful and – take note journalists – certainly not easily stereotyped. Gabrielle Grillo has spent the last few years scouring the internet for the funniest, most bizarre, have-to-see-to-believe knits, starting a Tumblr to show them off. Now with co-author Lucy Sweet, they have gathered them here for your amusement; from food to unicorns, horror movie scenes to alien dissection, it seems there is no end to the craziness you can create with a pair of needles or a hook (unfortunately no patterns are included).

Oh, and if you're not sure what the WTF stands for, we're certainly not telling you!

Closing date: 31 January 2015

WIN!

CHIAOGOO SPIN INTERCHANGEABLE NEEDLES SET

We have one set of ChiaoGoo Spin Interchangeable Needles to give away to one lucky reader!
ChiaoGoo Spin Interchangeable Needles are made from Chinese Moso bamboo, known to be among the strongest of all bamboos. They are tactile, strong and warm to use, making a nice alternative type of wood.
The set includes needles from sizes 2.7mm up to 10mm with cable lengths, the 'spin' of the title meaning they rotate in the metal connecting case, including 60mm, 80mm and 100mm lengths. You also get a needle gauge, cable connectors, cord keys and stitch markers thrown in! www.chiaogoo.com

WIN!
10 X THE PENGUIN KNITTING BOOK

We have ten copies of the reissued and updated The Penguin Knitting Book by James Norbury to give away!
"Knitting fills a fascinating page in the human story. I know of no home-craft that enjoys the universal popularity of hand-knitting" so said author James Norbury, 57 years ago.

Originally written in 1957 by Mr Norbury (read all about him in our review on page 14) this is a lovely, old-fashioned book that will be appreciated by knit-lovers and curious historians alike. Full of wit and charm as well as vintage patterns and how-to tips and techniques that still apply to the contemporary knitter, The Penguin Knitting Book entertainingly illustrates all things vintage in the world of wool.

Closing date: 31 January 2015

WIN!

THE YARN TO MAKE THIS CHUNKY COAT

We have teamed up with Rico to offer three lucky readers the chance to win the yarn to make the Chunky coat on the cover of this month's issue.

This on-trend Chunky coat will not only keep you warm this winter but with its flashes of bright yellow, a nod to the still-strong neon trend, it will keep you firmly fashion-forward too. Knitted in Rico's Essentials Big Duo, an updated take on the classic yarn for autumn/winter, this coat will also look great dressed up for festive parties or dressed down for long walks on the beach, an excellent all-rounder we think!

1. King Cole
Masham Misty DK

King Cole Masham Misty is a soft spun DK yarn made from 100% British breed wool. It's extremely smooth to work with and knits to a standard DK tension, producing a warm, lightweight fabric with excellent stitch definition and a very slightly blurred appearance. Each of the shades is a blend of dyed wool and ecru, which softens the intensity of the colour. The range of eight shades, which is reminiscent of an ice cream parlour, includes 1278 Heather, shown here. Design support can be found in a collection of loose leaflets that feature 12 designs for adults and children, including a number of cabled designs that show the yarn off to its best advantage. That said, this versatile yarn also works equally well for crochet projects. Hand wash, dry flat. Alternatively it can be washed in a machine for felted projects but I'd recommend testing on a couple of swatches first.

Composition:
100% British breed wool
Weight: 50g
Length: 105m
Rec needle size: 4mm
RRP: £4.19
Contact: King Cole
T: 01535 650230
E: info@kingcole.co.uk
W: www.kingcole.co.uk
2. Noro
Hanabatake

Noro Hanabatake is an Aran weight blend of 55% wool, 35% silk and 10% mohair. As you'd expect from Noro, this self-striping yarn is richly coloured and has a lovely, long colour repeat which translates into wonderfully deep stripes when knitted (although I've shortened the repeat in order to show the colour changes within this shade). The silk content gives it a soft, dry handle whilst being gentle to the touch and warm to wear. Design support can be found in either the Noro Boutique booklet ,which features 20 ladies' patterns by Jenny Watson from sweaters, cardigans and accessories or the booklet World of Nature 36. There is a choice of eight multi-coloured shades available including Shade 4, shown here. Washing is not recommended but may be dry cleaned with care. Do not tumble dry.

Composition:
55% wool, 35% silk, 10% mohair
Weight: 50g

3. La Pelote Parisienne
Oxford

La Pelote Parisienne Oxford is a chunky blend of 58% virgin wool and 42% acrylic with a gently twisted construction. The multi-tonal base colour has large nupps of accent colours twisted in along the length of the yarn, which not only gives the yarn its tweedy appearance but also adds textural interest. If you're after fast results you'll love how quickly your project will grow as it knits to a standard tension of 14 sts and 18 rows, producing a dense, firm fabric on the recommended 6mm needles. Alternatively, if you prefer a looser, more supple fabric, you may want to knit using a larger sized needle. There is a choice of six tweedy shades to choose from including shade Jeans, shown here, which is enlivened by shots of cobalt blue and beige. Hand washing is recommended. May also be dry cleaned. Iron on cool setting but do not tumble dry or hang.

Composition: 58% virgin wool, 42% acrylic
Weight: 50g
Length: 50m
Rec needle size: 6mm
RRP: £4.75

E: lapeloteparisienne@gmail.com
W: www.lapeloteparisienne.com
4. King Cole
Cosmos

King Cole Cosmos is a laceweight sequin yarn with an extremely generous metreage of 429m. If you're a fan of fine knits you'll love this yarn as it has a standard tension of 35 sts and 45 rows on 3.25mm so it's definitely not a quick knit. The resulting fabric is ultra lightweight and sophisticated, lending itself beautifully to lacy knits and eveningwear. You could also try knitting it held together with a solid-coloured 4 ply yarn to add a touch of sparkle to an otherwise plain project. I'd advise taking your time when knitting with this yarn as it doesn't lend itself to unravelling very easily (I'd also advise using a loose cast-off method once you've finished). Four out of the seven shades in the range match the colour of the sequins to the yarn for a tone-on-tone effect. The remaining colours, including shade 1097 Lunar shown here, contrast multicoloured sequins against a solid colour for a more bold look. Hand washing at 30°c is recommended. May also be dry cleaned but do not iron or tumble dry.

Composition: 76% glitter yarn, 24% payette
Weight: 25g
Length: 429m
Rec needle size: 3.25mm
RRP: £4.50

5. Erika Knight for John Lewis

Super Chunky

Erika Knight has partnered with John Lewis to create an exclusive collection of no-nonsense yarns and simple, cute patterns. The first of these, Super Chunky, is a mega bulky yarn made from 100% South American wool, which is dyed and spun by the Laxtons mill here in the UK. It has a gently plied construction and, as you'd imagine, it's brilliantly quick to knit, producing a bulky but lightweight fabric that's wonderfully soft to the touch and cosily warm to wear. It's perfect for quick accessories like scarves and hats but it's also bound to appeal to those of you wanting to make larger projects but are a little short of time. There are eight key shades to choose from including shade 10 Coral, shown here, and pattern support can be found in small selection of single leaflets (priced at £3 each) which feature small accessories like cabled fingerless mitts and a zig zag baby blanket. Hand wash. May also be dry cleaned but do not tumble dry.

Composition: 100% wool
Weight: 100g
Length: 75m
Rec needle size: 10-12mm
RRP: £7.50
Contact: John Lewis
T: 0345 6049 049
W: www.johnlewis.com

6. Sirdar

Ophelia

Sirdar Ophelia is a gorgeously soft blend of 57% acrylic, 40% nylon and 3% polyester. It has a gently twisted construction that brings together a fine eyelash yarn with a thin metallic thread, creating a yarn that knits to a chunky standard tension of 14 sts and 19 rows, producing a soft, slinky fabric with a furry handle and just a glimpse of sparkle. It's an obvious choice if you're a fan of gift knits but its appeal is bound to extend way past the festive season. Design support can be found in a collection of leaflets, which feature sweaters, cardigans and hats for both women and girls using Ophelia on its own or in combination with Sirdar Freya, which knits to the same tension. There are 10 shades available, from punchy fashion colours to cooler classics like cream, white and shade 109 Fawny, shown here. Gentle machine washing at 40°c is recommended. May also be dry cleaned with care but do not iron.

Composition: 57% acrylic, 40% nylon, 3% polyester
Weight: 50g
Length: 95m

7. DesignEtte

Melchior

DesignEtte Melchior is a cosily soft blend of 24% mohair, 31% acrylic, 30% nylon and 15% polyamide. It combines the soft haze of a mohair yarn with a very fine metallic fibre dotted with nupps of texture that translate into tiny dots of interest when the yarn is knitted up. It produces a dense but lightweight fabric that's around a DK weight, making it very versatile but if you're not normally a fan of lurex type yarns, don't worry; the effect is very understated and it doesn't feel scratchy when worn next to the skin. There is a choice of just black or the stormy grey, Shade 6, shown here, and interesting effects can be achieved by combining this yarn with other qualities in the same colour from the DesignEtte range such as Honshu, Princess silk or Hokkaido. Patterns for all of these yarns can be found in the Paris By Night pattern booklet which is available to buy from the website. Washing at 30°c is recommended. May also be dry cleaned.

Composition: 24% mohair, 31% acrylic, 30% nylon, 15% polyamide

8. La Pelote Parisienne

Boudoir

If you imagine a plump, lightweight roving with a cotton wool-like texture twisted with a fine eyelash yarn then you've got La Pelote Parisienne's Boudoir. It's a blend of 60% acrylic, 20% polyamide, 12% wool and 8% viscose that knits up quickly on 6.5mm needles to a standard tension of 12 sts and 15 rows. The resulting fabric is airily soft with a downy handle, gently blurred halo and a subtle contrast of matte and shine created by the two component yarns. It's an ideal yarn for knitted accessories like scarves, hats and fingerless mitts, although with a recommended hook size of 7mm it would work equally well for chunky crochet projects too. There is a choice of five classic shades available including red, black and shade Ivoire, shown here. Hand washing is recommended. May also be dry cleaned. Iron on cool setting but do not tumble dry. Also avoid hanging once the garment is complete.

Composition: 60% acrylic, 20% polyamide, 12% wool, 8% viscose
Weight: 50g
Length: 60m
Rec needle size: 6.5mm
RRP: £4.35

This month's selection of knitting books to inspire you. By Katy Evans

WIN A COPY!
See page 8
Anyone Can Knit

By Libby Summers
£7.99
Published by Arcturus
ISBN 9781784040482

Anyone Can Knit is the latest in the 'Anyone can…' craft series from Arcturus, this time by Libby Summers. These books set out to prove their titles' claim and Libby has done a great job of presenting a clear and practical guide to learning to knit with plenty of large, attractive, colour photographs of swatches and stitches as well as including 19 original projects to get you to test out your new skills. Patterns include home knits such as a hot water bottle, tea cosy and blanket, accessories, including mittens, hats, scarves and bags and garments, including a child's dress and cardigan, a tank top and ladies' cardigan. These patterns will enable you to gradually expand your expertise whilst getting some great projects out of it too.

Knitted with Love

By Jane Ellison
£19.95
Published by Jane Ellison
ISBN 9780993059506

In the introduction to this book, author and designer Jane Ellison talks about her love of knitting and the pleasure it brings to both knitter and receiver of a beautiful gift. It really sets the tone for this book of simple and easy patterns for babies and children, getting you to start thinking about which pattern you will knit and for whom as you look through. Jane has covered all levels of knitting with simple garter stitch tops and jackets though to a cute fisherman's jumper and a little lacy ballet cardigan, as well as blankets, hats and socks. Her love of wool as a natural fibre is clear, too, through her use of a natural, neutral palette, although yarns are not stated in the patterns so are open to choice. We have the gorgeous Hazle jacket on page 80.
Knit Your Own Farm

By Sally Muir and Joanna Osborne
£12.99
Published by Pavilion Books
ISBN 978 19093979880

Sally Muir and Joanna Osborne, authors of smash hit Best in Show are back with the latest in their series, this time tackling an entire farm in their bid to recreate every animal that has ever lived in knitted form. Farm animals actually go very nicely with Muir and Osborne's rustic style; these are not necessarily toys but soft sculptures lovingly made with plenty of detail and character. The sheep and pigs are rather beautiful while the Shire horse and Highland cow are quite some feats of creativity and the goat looks so lively it might just spring away at any moment. Each animal also comes with an introductory paragraph with fascinating, and idiosyncratic, facts, history and legends about each one.

The Penguin Knitting Book

By James Norbury
£7.99
ISBN 9780241971253

The Penguin Knitting Book was first published in 1957. Written by James Norbury; knitting historian, designer, teacher, extensive traveller and host of his own BBC knitting TV show, he was one of the foremost authorities on the history of knitting. Now, 57 years later, it has been lovingly restored and reissued for vintage knit lovers and historians alike. As well as instructions on how to knit and a fantastic stitch library, it includes a history of knitting and knitwear and a range of vintage knitting patterns for all the family, which make a great jumping off point for inspiration in creating your own patterns. It also includes black and white photographs of stitches and vintage patterns referenced in the book. This would make a great stocking filler!

FUNKY FUR

Faux fur gets a funky twist this winter as bright colours hit the catwalk. By Katie Holloway

Always a staple for winter, this year faux fur gets a contemporary makeover, with designers opting for unnatural shades of blues, reds, oranges and pinks. Roksanda Ilincic shows us a classic fur jacket, which is brought up to date with a cropped waist and a shade of vibrant red. Other design houses, such as Peter Pilotto and Topshop Unique, are combining deep, rich shades of different colours for a blocked out effect. The added embellishment of the high collar on the Peter Pilotto look is right on trend. What we love Sibling for is their adaptation of a catwalk trend into knitted style. The fur-like yarn fringing on this bright red outfit is perfect, and just the right touch for our knitting too!

KIY (Knit it Yourself)

If you can't quite face a full-on fur coat, try something like a shrug or waistcoat, knitted in faux fur yarn. This gilet by King Cole just has fur trimming (as do the boot toppers), which adds a nice touch, without being too much. Use a vibrant colour for the main yarn in the pattern. For a romantic, feminine look, the Soren pattern by Louisa Harding looks fantastic over a party dress (perfect for New Year!) Or if you do want to go all the way we love this fluffy Snowdrops jumper by Emma Wright, featured in Knitting issue 136. To order a back issue visit www.thegmcgroup.com or telephone 01273 488005.

There are plenty of fur yarns out there to choose from. One of our favourites is King Cole's Luxe Fur, which has long fibres and a two-tone look. We also love La Pelote Parisienne's Boudoir, which gives a more fluffy effect, and Isadora, a softly variegated yarn.

Abi Cox takes three knits from this month's gallery and offers you alternative shades and styling ideas.

W hen it comes to fashion in January, there can never be too much colour, or razzle-dazzle, to combat the dreary weather outside. For a cosy, yet classic look, team the Bobble and Cable jumper (in any fiery hue) with a pair of comfy boyfriend jeans and a pretty paisley scarf. The Textured yoke top is ideal for dressing down a glamorous A-line skirt: just pop on a pair of ballerina flats for the perfect balance. Couple the elegant Emilia peplum jumper with a graphic pencil skirt and box-framed bag for a timeless look.

Campaign for Wool Bike Ride

The Crafter:
words from the craft world

Oct-ober was a month of 'weeks' and now my shoes are at the cobblers having new soles put on them, having worn away the shoe leather. It has been London Design Week, London Fashion Week and Wool Week (all closely followed by my own invention, Wine Week).

The British Fashion Council made themselves at home in Somerset House. I really want one of these 'cash-air' scarves from Les 100 Ciels – that's French for The Hundred Skies, don't you know. The patented process knits the finest Mongolian cashmere yarn with another fibre that then washes away, leaving just this diaphanous featherweight gorgeousness.

Also at LFW were Wool and the Gang who have been making hats for Giles Deacon's catwalk show. They are called 'Eek hats': I think that is the noise that you make when you meet someone in the dark wearing one of them. Scary stuff. Really they are remarkably soft and you can knit your own or have one of their gang make them for you if you are feeling lazy.

There were some great up and coming designers in the Designer Showrooms. Remember Katie Jones, winner of the Knitted Textile Awards? Here she was again with candy-coloured crochet and her huge piñata bag. Zoe Jordan showed knits with strategically placed holes while Alexandra Hadjikyriacou at Had showed motor car-inspired designs.

The Campaign for Wool's week of festivities was kicked off with a woolly bike ride, or Wool Ride, this year. What could be more natural than cycling with a sheep on your head? More traditional was in The Campaign for Wool Interiors Collection exhibition at Southwark Cathedral, launched by the voluble Chairman Nicholas Coleridge CBE and organised by the very busy Bridgette Kelly of the Wool Marketing

Board. Wool Interiors Collection sees a curated edit of over fifty wool interior pieces highlighting the natural beauty and practical functionality of real wool. One of the best examples was Mary Goodman's Seating Spheres – covered as they were in Herdwick wool so that they were warm, comfy and not nearly so slippery as they looked. (After a glass of wine at the preview I can testify that they were, however, still quite wobbly.)

Marie Wallin showed a beautiful Fairisle throw and Naomi Paul showed her new crocheted lampshades. These were low hung and bonked a few passers-by on the head, or was that just me? As Prince Charles found out when he tried to set light to some wool as part of an after dinner speech – you can't burn wool, so it's safe to use in lighting. These are now available at Heals in Tottenham Court Road. That's it; I'm going to re-knit those old Chinese paper lanterns.

Mary's 'balls' had rolled across London from the exhibition at Tent London as part of London Design Week where Rosie Sharp Jones and Melanie Porter also showed knitting for interiors.

Not to be left out, John Lewis joined in with a Rowan knitwear fashion show.

They brought out a poncho pattern for the occasion, pandering to the current vogue for throwing a blanket over everything. If you stay on the sofa with your knitting and let someone chuck a throw over you, you'll be totes de rigueur.

KNITSONIK

Shannon Denny meets artist Felicity Ford to talk about project Knitsonik, knitted field recordings and finding inspiration in everyday objects

"When I think of being an artist, I think: what is the value of what I do, what do I contribute?" muses Felicity Ford. "A dentist fixes teeth, a doctor fixes broken bones…" And Felicity knits sound systems out of Shetland wool and commemorates fruitcakes through stranded colourwork. None of this is covered by the National Health Service – but maybe it should be.

Felicity's practice includes silkscreen printing, hand knitting and creative uses of recorded sound, often incorporating field recordings and interviews to explore the meaning of objects and social contexts. She's produced work for the Museum of Domestic Design and Architecture, the Wellcome Library, the British Film Institute and Tate Modern.

"I think wellbeing is really important," she explains. "In a rootless world, there's no tie anymore in where you're from and where you end up living. It's the same with things that we use; we don't know where they come from and there's no sense of origin or provenance. But I think there's a very simple need to belong and to feel at home. Celebrating everyday things helps to produce that feeling – that's the mission!"

A recurring theme in her work is going deeper behind the scenes to explore the origin of something, not just through a narrative but by using multiple senses to evoke a fuller story and feeling. Projects that relate to both knitting and sound fall under an umbrella she calls Knitsonik. A Knitsonik production called Hûrd – a commission she produced for the Wool Marketing Board – illustrates the ethos. "That was about bringing together the sound that relates to the material. It was a knitted speaker system with 32 miniature speakers covered in British wool, interviews with the shepherds, and recordings from the flock, the farms and the specific landscape where that wool came from," she says. "The idea was that people would hold the speaker to their ear and be listening to all these woolly sounds, then realise that the sounds related to the wool they were holding."

Felicity's first exposure to knitting was through her grandmother. Later, when she arrived at Oxford Brookes University, she connected with a knitting group as a way of meeting other interesting women. It's a familiar path that many of us have travelled – but how the sound recording angle entered her work represents an unusual detour: "When I was 19 I got really bad arthritis," she says. "I was very disabled with it. I became more aware generally about disability. My physical appearance hugely changed because I was on steroids. I didn't want to make work that was about looking at things. I became really interested in this whole idea of a more interior perspective of the world. I also had a very good friend who had less than five percent usable sight. She was listening to audio books all the time and we were doing lots of cabaret performances together. I just became really aware that there's this thing that happens when you work with sound that allows inner pictures to develop. I retreated inward and started making these stories that were hugely embellished with sound. It was something about getting to the feeling of things. I wanted people to listen to the stories and have their own stories, not provide a picture that would replace that."

"When I think of being an artist, I think: what is the value of what I do, what do I contribute?"

KNITSONIK

Her latest project, The Knitsonik Stranded Colourwork Sourcebook, takes this thinking in a new direction. "The key focus is making stranded colourwork based on everyday things you love," she says. "There's a general underlying idea of figuratively 'listening' to your surroundings, paying attention and being present."

She's created patterns and swatches based on favourite things – a crumbling Art Deco building, a biscuit tin, sloe berries on a bush, brickwork in Reading, a street, a sound recorder, a beer pump label, a fruitcake, an old book and so on – all based on techniques learned during trips to Shetland and Estonia. Soon to follow is an album to accompany the book, which will contain sound recordings that relate to the objects and places celebrated through the patterns.

"I don't think I would have come up with the idea for this book if I hadn't spent so much time standing still in places and listening," she says. "Someone astutely said to me that the swatches I've produced for this book are like knitted field recordings. I really like that analogy! It feels like the recording is a document of an atmosphere, an environment." Whether the document is executed through a sound recorder or yarn, the goal is always the same – to elevate common things to new heights by giving them the close attention they deserve.

This yearning to encourage a deeper appreciation for the everyday and even mundane manifests itself throughout Felicity's portfolio. If you think a biscuit tin is a bit ho-hum, then consider this: she's also explored the aesthetic and emotive relevance of everything from washing up to the unassuming potato.

It's a theme that's become stronger and stronger during her career as an artist. "I realised that there was this idea that you do this horrible job that you hate for five days a week and then you have the weekend for fun. You have this leisure and work divide; it did strike me as being a bit of a bad deal. Then I noticed it related to art as well. There's this idea that all the colours and images that we see in everyday life – that's just stuff. But then we go to a gallery and all the things in the gallery are magical. I was like, 'I don't want to only have that sensation when I'm in a gallery.' So maybe the gallery is a way of looking rather than a place that holds all the lovely things."

KICKSTARTER

In a similar power-to-the-people vein, the new book is the product not just of Felicity's vision but also of a fantastically successful Kickstarter campaign. She budgeted £9,000 to bring the book to fruition, but blew that target by raising £12,728 from no fewer than 447 backers. "What's really nice about the platform is that the people who invest in your project are then involved in it in quite a special way. Throughout the process everyone who has invested has an insight. I've never done an art project before where 447 people were really interested and really cared. Even with a commission, you do the work, hand it over and don't really know what happens. I like that Kickstarter massively closes that gap between the maker and the people who want the thing that you're making. It's about doing a project together, and involving people in the creative process."

That collaborative, open-source ethos isn't limited to the funding mechanism though; it wends its way clearly through the content, too. While Felicity's own ideas that she's discovered through swatching are charted in the book, there's also scope for readers to then go off on their own knitting adventures based on inspirations from their own lives. "There are patterns that have a blank template so you can develop your own stranded colourwork idea and then apply it straightaway to a pattern. You don't have to faff about with all the maths because I've done that," she laughs.

"There's a very strong overarching message which is about you and the things that you really love. I'm going to walk you through what I've done with the idea that you can take it in your own direction. My hope is that this book will spill over into other areas of life, so it won't just be about sitting down and knitting but about walking down the street and going, 'Ah, I've never noticed that before – I wonder if I could make some colourwork from it.'" You might still need to book a doctor's appointment for one ailment or another, but your journey to there might be all the more pleasant as you absorb the wonder of your own surroundings. ●

Grafting the rib edging

In this design the rib trim, which edges the body of the garment, is worked in one continuous length. Using a provisional cast-on technique allows you to graft the last and first rows, creating a neater, seamless finish, which starts and ends at the centre back neck.

Although I generally use a crochet edged provisional cast-on, I thought this method would be less off-putting if you're not used to working with a crochet hook. Use waste yarn to cast on the required number of stitches and knit a few rows in rib. Break off the waste yarn and join in the main colour then knit the rib to the required length.

1 Lay the rib flat as pictured so that the waste yarn cast-on is at the top and the needle holding the last row of stitches is at the bottom. Thread a darning needle with main yarn (I've used a contrast colour here to make it easier to see the grafted row).

2 To begin grafting, start working on the lower set of stitches first. Thread the darning needle from back to front through the centre of the first knit stitch but leave it on the needle.

3 Next take the needle upwards to the top set of stitches. Thread it from right to left through the centre of the first knit stitch in the main yarn (NOT the waste yarn).
4 Now return to the lower set of stitches. Insert the darning needle from front to back through the centre of the first stitch, slip the stitch off the needle then bring the darning needle from back to front through the centre of the second knit stitch.

5 Pull the yarn gently to match the tension of the knitted fabric. You have now successfully grafted the first stitch. Repeat Step 3 then once again returning to the lower set of stitches, insert darning needle from front to back through the centre of the second knit stitch. Slip from the needle and pull on yarn as before to even the tension. You have now grafted both knit stitches

6 To graft the first purl stitch, still working on the lower set of stitches, insert the needle from front to back through the centre of the first purl stitch.

8 Then thread the needle from front to back under the U-shaped loop on the left.

9 Returning to the lower set of stitches, insert the needle from back to front through the centre of the purl stitch and slip it from the knitting needle. Once again pull gently on the yarn to even the tension. Repeat Steps 7 and 8 for the second purl stitch.

7 Take the needle upwards to the top set of stitches. Insert it from back to front under the U-shaped loop on the right.

"In this design the rib trim, which edges the body of the garment, is worked in one continuous length. Using a provisional cast-on technique allows you to graft the last and first rows creating a neater, seamless finish, which starts and ends at the centre back neck."

10 Continue repeating Steps 2 – 9 across the rib until all the stitches have been grafted then remove the waste yarn.

Patt Rep

Instructions

Change to size 4mm needles.
Next row (dec): Knit, dec 39[59:79:99] times (by working k2tog) across row. 111[121:131:141] sts.
Cont in Single Cable Patt as folls for Yoke:
Row 1: K1, (p2, k6, p2, k1) 10[11:12:13] times.
Row 2: (P1, k2, p6, k2) 10[11:12:13] times, p1.
Row 3: K1, (p2, C3F, p2, k1) 10[11:12:13] times.
Row 4: As Row 2.
Row 6: As Row 2.
Rep these 6 rows until work meas 63[64:65:66]cm (24.75[25.25:25.5:26]in) from cast-on edge.

Shape shoulders
Cast off 11[12:13:14] sts at beg of next 2 rows and 10[11:13:15] sts at beg of foll 4 rows.
Leave rem 49[51:53:55] sts on st holder until required for neckband.

LEFT FRONT
Using size 3.75mm needles cast on 77[88:107:117] sts and work in single rib for 6cm (2.5in).
Next row (inc): Rib 8, (m1, rib 9) to end ending last rep rib to end. 85[97:118:129] sts.
Change to size 4.5mm needles and work in patt as folls:
Sizes 1 and 3 only
Row 1: K1, (p4, BKC, p4, FKC, p4, k1, p2, k6, p2, k1) 2[3] times, p4, BKC, p4, FKC, p4, k1.
Sizes 2 and 4 only
Row 1: K1 (p4, BKC, p4, FKC, p4, k1, p2, k6, p2, k1) 3[4] times.
All sizes
This sets position of patt as given for Back (C3F on Row 3 to commence Cable Patt).
Cont in patt until work meas 41cm (16.25in) from cast-on edge and Front matches Back.

Shape sleeves
With RS facing (on Right Front WS will be facing) cast off 5[6:7:8] sts at beg of next row and dec 1 st at Sleeve edge of next 4 rows and 2 foll alt rows.
Knit g-st band in same position as for Back and dec at top of this to achieve 51[51:61:71] sts, then work Cable Yoke as for Back on size 4mm needles until work meas 59cm (23.25in) from cast-on edge.

Shape neck
Cast off 8[8:10:11] sts at neck edge of next row then dec 1 st at neck edge on next 11[8:12:17] rows.
Cont until work meas 63[64:65:66]cm (24.75[25.25:25.5:26]in) from cast-on edge and Front matches Back.

Shape shoulder
Cast off 11[12:13:14] sts and beg of next row and foll alt row, and 10[11:13:15] sts at beg of foll alt row.

POCKET BACK
Using size 4.5mm needles cast on 33[35:36:37] sts and work in st st for 10cm.
Leave on holder until required for Right Front.

RIGHT FRONT
Work as for Left Front but work one more row before shaping for Sleeve so shaping is reversed.

When work meas 20cm (8in) from cast-on edge with RS facing work pocket row as folls:
Patt 26[31:41:46] sts, sl next 33[35:36:37] sts onto a holder, patt 33[35:36:37] sts of Pocket Back, patt 26[31:41:46].
Complete as Left Front reversing shapings as described.

POCKET FRONT
Using size 3.75mm needles pick up sts on st holder and work in 1 x 1 rib for 2cm (0.75in).
Cast off in rib.

SLEEVES
Using size 3.75mm needles cast on 50[53:56:59] sts and rib for 8cm.
Inc row: Rib 2, (m1, rib 3) to end. 66[70:74:78] sts.
Change to size 4.5mm needles and work in Patt as folls:
Size 1 only
Row 1: K5, p2, k1, (p4, BKC, p4, FKC p4, k1, p2, k6, p2, k1) twice ending last rep k5.
Row 2: P5 k2, p1, (k4, p4, k4, p4, k4, p1, k2, p6, k2, p1) twice ending last rep p5.
Size 2 only
Row 1: As size 1 but begin p1, k6, p2, k1, then work from beg of bracket.
Size 3 only
Row 1: As size 1 but begin k1, p2, k6, p2, k2 then work from beg of bracket.
Size 4 only
Row 1: As size 1 but begin p2, k1, p2, k6, p2, k1 then work from beg of bracket.
This sets position of patt.
Patt 6 rows, then inc 1 st at each end of next row and every foll 4th row until there are 98[108:118:128] sts working extra sts into patt as they occur.
Cont straight until Sleeve meas 44cm (17.25in) from cast-on edge.

Shape sleeve head
Cast off 4 sts at beg of next 2 rows, then dec 1 st at each end of next 4[6:8:10] rows.
Work 1 row.
Cast off 6[7:8:9] sts at beg of next 6 rows.
Cast off rem 46[46:46:48] sts.

BUTTONHOLE BAND
Using 3.75mm needles cast on 11 sts and work 6 rows in 1 x 1 rib.
*Buttonhole Row 1: Rib 4, cast off 3, rib 4.
Buttonhole Row 2: Rib 4, cast on 3, rib 4.
Work in 1 x 1 rib for 22[22:24:24] rows*
Rep from * to * 5 times more then work 2 buttonhole rows again.
Rib 4 rows.
Cast off.

BUTTON BAND
Work as given for Buttonhole Band omitting the buttonholes.

NECKBAND
Join both shoulder seams.
With RS of work facing and 3.75mm needles, pick up and k24[25:26:27] sts evenly from Right Front neck, k49[51:53:55] sts from st holder then pick up 24[25:26:27] sts evenly from Left Front neck. 97[101:105:109] sts.

Work in 1 x 1 rib for 2.5cm (1in).
Cast off all the sts.

TO FINISH OFF
Press work gently with a steam iron.
Set in Sleeves to shape formed by Sleeve shaping.
Join Sleeve and side seams.
Sew down Pocket Back and rib at top edge.
Using a flat stitch attach button and Buttonhole Bands.
Sew on buttons. ●

Round 1: *K1, p1, rep from * to end.
Rep Round 1 until work measures 5cm (2in) from cast-on edge.

Eyelet round: K1, p1, k1, *yo, k2tog, p1, k1, yo, k2tog, (p1, k1) 3 times, rep from * twice more, yo, k2tog, p1, k1, yo, k2tog, p1.
Rep Round 1 once more.
Change to 4mm needles.
Next round: (K4, m1, k5, m1, k4, m1, k5, m1, k5, m1) twice (56 sts).
Work 10 rounds st st.
Work rounds 1 to 6 from Chart, in st st, repeating 4 times around mitt.

Set up thumb
Round 7 (R mitt): K3, with waste yarn k9, turn, p9, turn, pick up A again, k to end of round.
Round 7 (L mitt): Knit to last 12 sts, with waste yarn k9, turn, p9, turn, pick up A again, k3.

Left and right mitt
Work rounds 8 to 31 from Chart.

Top shaping
Following Chart:
Round 32 (dec): Ssk, knit to 2 sts before marker or end of 1st needle, k2tog, ssk, knit to last 2 sts, k2tog (52 sts).
Round 33: Work in patt, starting with second st.
Round 34: Work in patt, dec as in round 32 (48 sts).
Round 35: Work in patt, starting with third st.
Round 36: Work in patt, dec as in round 32 (44 sts).
Round 37: Work in patt, starting with fourth st.
Continue in B working a dec round on every alt round until 28 sts remain.
With half of sts on one end of circular needle and half on the other, graft top closed.

Thumb
With 4mm circular needle and A, pick up 9 sts along bottom of waste yarn, pick up 1 st in next st, then 9 sts along the top of the waste yarn and 1 st in the next st (20 sts).
Knit 1 round.
Next round: K8, k2tog, k8, k2tog (18 sts).
Place marker after 9 sts and knit 8 rounds.
Change to B.
Knit 2 rounds.
Next round: Knit.
Next round: Ssk, knit to 2 sts before marker, k2tog, ssk, knit to last 2 sts, k2tog (14 sts).
Rep last 2 rounds twice more (6 sts).
Graft top of thumb closed.

CORD (MAKE 2)
Cut 8 strands of A, each 80cm (31.5in) long. Twist 2 sets of 2 strands clockwise then twist the resulting strands together anticlockwise and tie at ends.
BOBBLES (MAKE 4)
Wrap B around 2 fingers 30 times then slip from fingers and tie tightly in middle. Cut loops at both ends then trim into sphere, leaving the two ends of the yarn that ties the middle long.

TO FINISH OFF
Weave in all ends. Thread the cord through the eyelet holes at the wrist and attach bobbles to ends by tying cord around then folding end of cord back and binding securely in place. ●

ABBREVIATIONS
Special Stitches (UK terminology)
sl st = slip stitch.
ch = chain.
dc = double crochet.
tr = treble crochet.
htr = half treble crochet.
dc2tog = double crochet 2 sts together.
Shell (sh) = Work (dc, ch 1, tr) in indicated st. ▶

Magic Ring = Make a loop a few inches from the end of your yarn. Grasp the join of the loop (where the 2 strands of yarn overlap) between your thumb and forefinger. Insert hook into the loop from front to back. Draw yarn through. Ch 1 to anchor the yarn (does not count as a st). Insert hook into the loop, so you are crocheting over the loop and the yarn tail. Draw yarn through to begin your first stitch of Round 1. Continue to crochet over the loop and the yarn tail until you have the required number of sts for your first round. Grab the yarn tail and pull to draw the centre of the ring tightly closed. Sl st into first st of Round 1.

TO FINISH OFF
Sew up all row-end seams on RS using mattress stitch, unless otherwise stated; a one-stitch seam allowance has been allowed for this.
Shoes, legs, body and head
Sew up row ends of shoes and, with markers at tips of toes, oversew cast-on stitches; leg seam will be 8mm (0.25in) on inside edge of heel.
Sew up ankles and place a ball of stuffing into toes. Sew up row ends of legs and sew round crotch. Stuff legs and sew up body seam.
Stuff body and sew up row ends of head to halfway up head. Stuff head and pull stitches on a thread tight at top of head, fasten off and finish sewing up row ends.
To shape neck, take a double length of yarn in colour to match upper body and sew a running stitch round last row of upper body, sewing in and out of every half stitch.
Pull tight, knot yarn and sew ends into neck.
Skirt
Turn under cast-on stitches along picot row and sew in place. Sew up row ends of skirt and place on body.
Sew cast-off sts of skirt to first row of upper body all the way round.
Sleeves and hands
Sew up row ends of hands and place a small ball of stuffing into hands, pushing stuffing in with tweezers or tip of scissors. Sew up Sleeves from wrists to markers at underarm.
Stuff Sleeves and leave armholes open. ▶

Instructions

Sew arms to body at either side, sewing cast-on sts at top of arms to second row below neck.

Features

Mark position of eyes with two pins on 9th row above neck with three clear knitted stitches in between. Begin and fasten off features at top of head under hair and embroider eyes with a double length of black yarn by working a vertical chain stitch for each eye, starting at marked position and ending on second row above marked position. Embroider mouth in red on the 4th and 5th rows below eyes, making a shallow 'v' shape across two stitches. Embroider nose in pale pink at centre front on row below eyes, making a bundle of five horizontal stitches over one stitch. Shade cheeks with a red pencil.

Hair and bun

Oversew row ends of hair and place on head and, with seam at centre back, pull hair down to neck at back. Sew lower edge of hair to head using back stitch all the way round. Sew up row ends of bun and stuff, pushing stuffing in with tweezers or tip of scissors. Sew lower edge of bun to top of head all the way round.

Collar

Turn under cast-on sts along picot row and sew in place. Place collar around neck and, with seam at centre back, sew up row ends. Sew cast-off sts of collar to neck.

Wings

Fold wings, bringing straight row ends together, and sew up. Stuff wings lightly and oversew shaped row ends. Place wings side by side and sew up centre to join wings together. Sew wings to back of Fairy Godmother.

Wand

Cut a 7cm (2.75in) length of drinking straw. Place knitted wand around straw and sew up row ends by oversewing along length, enclosing straw inside. Gather round top and bottom, pull tight and secure. Trace diagram and cut two star shapes from white felt. Cover one side of each of the cut star shapes with fabric glue, place stick of wand between them and stick them together matching all edges. Oversew around outer edge of star shape with sewing needle and thread. Leave to dry, then sew wand to right hand. ●

TEMPLATE

Match the swatch

To match the sizes and measurements given in our patterns you must make a tension swatch (gauge) before knitting the project. If your swatch turns out larger than ours, try again using smaller needles. If it is too small, try larger needles.

Sewing up

1 Before you sew knitted pieces together, pin the pieces flat to the measurements given on our diagrams.
2 Steam press, lightly steam or spray lightly with water depending on washing instructions on the ball band.
3 Allow pieces to cool and dry before sewing up.
4 To sew up use the yarn you knitted with. Or, if the yarn is textured and hard to sew, use a smooth matching yarn – cotton with cotton, wool with wool, etc.
5 Many garments can be made up by sewing shoulder seams first, then setting in sleeve head to armhole, then completing by sewing along the long seam of the sides and sleeves. Each pattern has extra tips where necessary.
6 Darn in all ends and finish seams by lightly steaming from wrong side, provided the yarn can be steamed.

Choosing alternative yarns

1 Choose a modern yarn that you like, with a similar look, composition and weight to the one in the old pattern.
2 Knit a tension swatch (gauge) and compare it to the one given in the pattern. If they both come out to the same size, you're onto a winner!
3 Calculate how much yarn to buy. Many patterns tell you the length of yarn in each ball as well as the weight. So if the pattern uses 10 balls at 130 metres per ball, you know you need up to 1,300 metres of yarn. Check the length per ball of your new yarn and divide the total yarn length by the length in one ball to get the number of balls you need to make the item.
4 Compare the total weight of each yarn length. For example if the original pattern had 10 balls at 50g each, the total weight would be 500g. Now that you have worked out how many balls of new yarn you are buying, just multiply the number of balls by the weight per ball. That should roughly match the 500g total that you had for the old yarn. It's just another way to check that you are on the right track.
5 Use this same method to substitute yarns for modern patterns, where the yarn is too expensive or difficult to obtain, or if you just want to use up yarn in your stash.

STAR LETTER

88 years of knitting

STAR LETTER

I thought that you might like to see a photograph of my mother knitting a 2 ply circular shawl, with over 400 stitches across the diameter. You might ask what is special about this. Well, my mother (Kath Plant of Huntington near Cannock in Staffordshire) is 92, she still knits every single day and this is the SEVENTH shawl she has knitted THIS YEAR (as well as numerous other items). Mum has been using this pattern (pictured) for over 50 years for the new babies of family and friends and has lost count of the number of shawls she has knitted. You will see that the pattern is very dog-eared so it is fortunate that she hardly needs to refer to it.

My grandmother showed my mother how to knit when she was four – using the wooden skewers that came with the meat joint from the butcher! She had one ball of yarn, which she continually knitted, then undid, then knitted again. At the age of nine a local shopkeeper saw her knitting out in the street and asked her mother if Kath could knit for Dr Barnardo's Homes (now the charity Barnardos) and she did this for a number of years, knitting the pieces which were then taken away to be sewn up; she never saw a completed garment. At 12 her teacher asked her to knit a baby blanket for a pregnant colleague, who sadly died in childbirth and Mum says she often wondered about the little baby sleeping under the blanket she had made. She has been knitting continually ever since.

I only started knitting a couple of years ago as, perversely perhaps, I knew I could never be as good as mother! It is really good to have her to answer all of my knitting questions either on the phone or on my monthly visit; how lucky am I?

Hope you have enjoyed reading this. Thanks for a great magazine – I love it when Knitting magazine drops through my letterbox.

Celia Maughan, via email

Asymmetrical jumper

I have subscribed to Knitting magazine for a number of years now, and eagerly await each issue to arrive through my letterbox. The only problem I have is that with each magazine that arrives my 'to do' list goes up by a number of projects, and my list is constantly getting longer, as I cannot knit quickly enough to keep up! One project that recently caught my eye was Maisie Smith's Asymmetrical jumper in issue 126, March 2014. I love bright colours and so I decided to create my own version of it, using bright colours and changing the sleeves slightly to fit in with the coloured stripes. I hope you like my take on it, and that Maisie isn't disappointed with how I have adapted her pattern. My office has a 'dress down Friday' policy, and each week my colleagues eagerly wait to see which of my hand knits I will be wearing. I might need to warn them to bring their sunglasses for this one!

What you're saying…

Online...

We discovered a virtual knitting game online, in which you are to help 'knit' the world's longest scarf. We asked if you would play it. The results were pretty conclusive! Here's what some of you said:

Marie: I'd rather knit something real. I get so cross when I get game requests. No!

Nicky: There are not enough hours in the day for actual knitting, so no hope for the virtual version!

Thetwistedyarn: No, no, and a million times no. Why not, just, you know, knit?

Brava: No, I prefer to touch my knitting!

Skeleton search

Q Once seen, never forgotten; several years ago, there was a picture sent in to your letters page of a black sweater with an all over depiction of little skeletons. The jumper pattern appeared on the left page, by the left margin on the letters page around 2008/2009. I'm not a hoarder and regularly pass on my copies of knitting magazines for others to enjoy. Unfortunately the down side to this is that I have no idea as how to find that pattern. To make matters worse, the sender had made the sweater many years before, (in the '60s?) and I do not remember the pattern's origin being mentioned. There clearly had been a pattern because of the complexity of the design. I have researched contemporary skull/skeleton patterns but you know how it is; I have my imagination set on that one, please help me find it.

Incidentally, is 'sweater' the English word, and 'jumper' American? It would be great to have some more information about this sort of terminology.

Lottie Brookfroth by email

A For an avid knitter there can be few things more than frustrating than setting your mind on a particular design and not being able to lay hands on the pattern when the day for picking up needles and casting on finally arrives. This particular design sounds quite something and must really have struck a chord with you. How can I tell? Because despite looking back to 2008/2009 AND having passed on your back issues of the magazine you can remember exactly where on the page the picture of the jumper appeared! I'm amazed by (and jealous of) your powers of recall. It's really thoughtful of you to pass on your magazines for others to enjoy although you're no doubt regretting it a bit now. The team and I have had a look through our back issues but we haven't come across the design and as we're not sure of the pattern's origin or the issue in which the photo was published we're going to have to throw this one open to our lovely readers for help. I'm sure there are a number of you who have subscribed to the magazine from the start and have a complete archive of Knitting. If so, we'd really appreciate you checking through from issue 54 backwards to find this boney creation and put us out of our misery. Whilst there's every chance that we'll find the issue that featured the photo the origins of the pattern may be a bit more difficult to trace so I've found a couple of other options for you to fall back on.

You didn't mention the style of the original design but if you're after an easy to wear oversized sweater you might like Janine Smith's Skeleton Jumper. It's knitted in Aran (worsted) weight yarn with a large skeleton motif on the front, which is worked in intarsia. The pattern is available for free from Janine's blog http://haberydashery.wordpress.com/2012/06/11/knitted-skeleton-jumper/ and includes instructions for three ladies' sizes: small, medium and large.

Because intarsia is a wonderfully versatile technique that has less of an effect on tension than stranded knitting you may already have a pattern in your collection that can be updated by adding your own skeleton motifs. Designaknit, by the UK-based SoftByte Ltd, is a software program that not only allows you to draft patterns and create stitches but also has a Graphics Studio feature, which allows you to convert any image into a stitch pattern. This means that you can translate drawn or photographed images into chart form and so create your own motifs for your very own skeletal design. Alternatively, if you're mind is really set on a more complex design and you fancy showing off your design flair then you may want to try designing something from scratch using the program's Original Pattern Drafting feature. With the hand knit version starting at £12.00 you can find out more at www.softbyte.co.uk/designaknit.htm.

As for uses of the word 'sweater' versus 'jumper', according to the Collins English Dictionary jumper is a mainly English term and is defined as "a knitted or crocheted garment covering the upper part of the body" and the word originates from the 19th century "…from obsolete jump man's loose jacket, variant of jupe, from Old French, from Arabic jubbah long cloth coat". I'm no expert in the origins of language but would definitely say that 'sweater' is more of an American term whilst us Brits tend to use 'jumper' and possibly the less used 'pullover'.

Zip it up

Q I've just decided to subscribe to your magazine. Love all your ideas, it's nice to find lots of up to date patterns. I would like to make a zip-up Aran-style jumper or hoodie – I've seen some nice ones in a shop done in cotton, but would love to know how to put a zip neatly into a knitted jumper. Do you have any plans to feature this technique in a future mag?

Mrs Julie Raffell by email

A It's great to hear that you've decided to subscribe to the magazine; you'll certainly never be short of fantastic designs to knit. Inserting a zip into a knitted garment can seem very daunting if you haven't tried it before but actually it's really not as difficult as you may imagine. I've actually covered this technique back in issue 117, July 2013 but as you may have missed it here's a recap:

● First of all be sure to choose a weight of zip that's appropriate to the style of garment and weight of the yarn you've knitted. So for example, whilst a chunky open ended zip may suit a heavily textured or chunky jacket you'll need a much lighter weight zip for a DK or 4 ply weight garment.

● Although the pattern may give a specific length of zip I'd recommend taking the garment with you and checking the length against the actual finished garment. You don't want to find that having added a bit of extra length to your garment the original size of zip is too short.
1 Lay the closed zip on a flat surface then with the RS of the garment facing upwards position the zip so that the top of the teeth are level with the coloured marker. Inserting the pins horizontally as shown, secure the zip in place, taking care that the knitted fabric sits flat all the way down. (Stretching the knitted edge can cause the zip to pucker). On this first side the garter stitch edge sits to the left of the zip so that the teeth are just visible when fastened. Use plenty of pins so that you don't have to baste the zip temporarily.
2 Now using backstitch, and starting at the bottom of the garment, sew the zip in place using a sewing needle threaded with matching coloured thread. Try to get your stitches as close to the knitted edge as possible to prevent it from curling back and revealing more of the zip that intended.

3 Once at the top of the zip, turn the garment over so the wrong side is facing and fold over the excess fabric sitting above the teeth. Before securing, open and close the zip to make sure the fabric doesn't prevent the zip from opening, then whipstitch in place to the WS to prevent them from being seen when the garment is worn.

4 Now using a darning needle threaded with your main yarn, secure the edges of the zip in place on the WS using whipstitch.

Fashion show favourites

Q I went to the Knitting and Stitching Show at Alexandra Palace on the Sunday and was amazed as I watched the fashion show with my hubby. I would like to know where to get the pattern books for the featured garments. We thought the lady who was telling everyone what the models were wearing said it was Love by Rowan, but I cannot find it. I am now driving my husband mad; he comes with me to the Knitting and Stitching Show every year. I would love to know where to get the patterns from. Can you help?

Exclusive poncho collection for Rowan by Sarah Hazell, shown on the catwalk at Ally Pally

A The daily fashion shows that took place at Ally Pally during the Knitting & Stitching show featured designs from a number of Coats brands and designers including Rowan, Patons, Kim Hargreaves and Zandra Rhodes' debut collection Lace Mountain. For information on the specific designs and collections email Coats directly at consumer.ccuk@coats. com and, with a breakdown of everything that was featured, they should be able to help you pinpoint what you are after.

PURL ABOUT TOWN

Laura 'Purl Princess' Parkinson attempts to wrench her eyes away from her stitches and reach her ultimate knitting goal

Back when I was a shiny new knitter there was one ultimate goal that I wanted to achieve; it would be my badge of honour, a signal that I'd really 'made it' in the stitching world and would generally just look cool. That goal was to be able to knit without looking. When I saw other people knit a row whilst chatting and maintaining eye contact at the same time it was like witnessing magic. How was this possible? What was the trick to it? How could I be a knitting ninja just like them? It was certainly not something that came naturally to me and, like a lot of things in life, it took some time and practice to achieve.

Straight out of Uni, the commute to my first job was a 45-minute overground train through East London. Getting on at the end of the line meant that I had the unusual luxury of almost always bagging a seat for the full journey. And so I had the most blissful, uninterrupted knitting time twice everyday! It was during this time that I saw an opportunity to coach myself how to knit without looking, but how?

I knew that knitting without looking was possible. Some girls in my knitting group used to read textbooks for their Masters degrees whilst knitting and others spoke about going to the cinema with their projects. I wanted this too and felt that, if I could knit without looking, I'd be living the dream as well as moving from novice to master in one easy step.

And so I began on the train rides to and from work, attempting to wrench my head away from the action on my needles. But no sooner had I torn my eyes away would they zoom back for fear of messing up a stitch. However, as the days and weeks went by, I managed to be able to do a few stitches without direct eye-to-yarn contact. I found the key was in having my index finger constantly looking after the top stitch on the left needle. This allows you to feel where your next stitch will be as well as helping you to make fewer mistakes and dropped stitches. Before I quit that job a year later I was spending my train journeys taking in the scenery out of the train window, row after row, without looking once.

Finally reaching my goal did make me feel like a more accomplished knitter, but clearly did not mean that I was suddenly Kaffe Fassett. And, of course, there are certain things I feel I could never do without the use of my trusty eyeballs. Lace and cables still require maximum eye attention and occasionally, even on stocking stitch, I drop stitches without realising. This is usually because I have been so engrossed in watching just one more episode of Grey's Anatomy. You could say the best thing about learning to knit without looking has been that I am quite good at picking up dropped stitches now!

> "You could say the best thing about learning to knit without looking has been that I am quite good at picking up dropped stitches now!"

I didn't quite make the jump from novice to master merely by learning to knit without looking at every stitch, but I learned a few lessons that moved me closer to intermediate status on the way. So, I encourage you, if you have your eyes stuck to your stitches at all times perhaps putting that little bit of effort in every day will persuade your eyes to do their own thing for a change. Imagine the possibilities…

Must knit:
By far the best project to practice the 'not looking' technique is a stocking stitch baby hat. Grab those circulars and knit round, and round, and round with Alison William's Simple Baby Hat available for free on Ravelry.com. Practice makes perfect.

Must go:
If you're really quick you can still see the Fashion and Textile Museum's winter exhibition KNITWEAR Chanel to Westwood in London. It's open until 18 Jan and is completely fabulous daaaaaarling. For details visit ftmlondon.org.
